Prof. Vishal S. Rana
(Head of Department)

On 6 January, 2012 we have visited atlas copco (India) ltd,Nasik. Atlas Copco (India) is in the business of manufacturing air and gas compressors, construction and mining equipment and industrial tools. Atlas Copco set up its compressors division at Pune and construction and mining equipment at Nashik in 2007. In the same year company acquired Dynapac's road construction equipment business. Its manufacturing sites located at Pune and Nashik are ISO 14001 certified. The company caters its products and services to various industries like construction, manufacturing, mining, processing and service. Atlas Copco acquired Compressor Engineering, a UK-based distributor and service provider of compressed air equipment. The acquired
